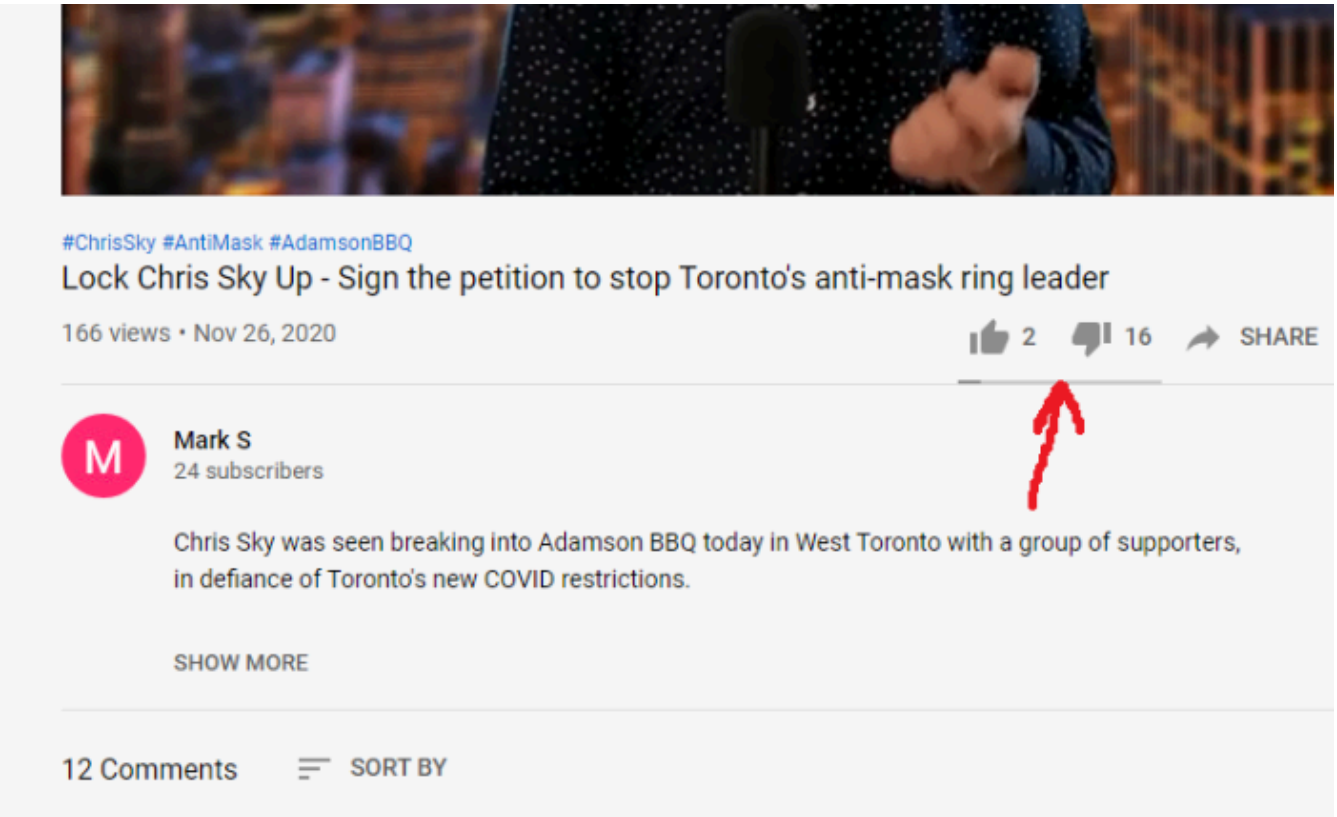
CANUCK LAW
Reporting That You're Not Getting Elsewhere (Do Your Own Research To Verify)

NOVEMBER 28, 2020 BY RONNIE

So-Called “Journalist” Mark Slapinski Wants Person He Doesn’t Agree With Jailed



#ChrisSky #AntiMask #AdamsonBBQ
Lock Chris Sky Up - Sign the petition to stop Toronto's anti-mask ring leader
166 views • Nov 26, 2020
2
16
SHARE
M
Mark S
24 subscribers
Chris Sky was seen breaking into Adamson BBQ today in West Toronto with a group of supporters, in defiance of Toronto's new COVID restrictions.
SHOW MORE
12 Comments
SORT BY

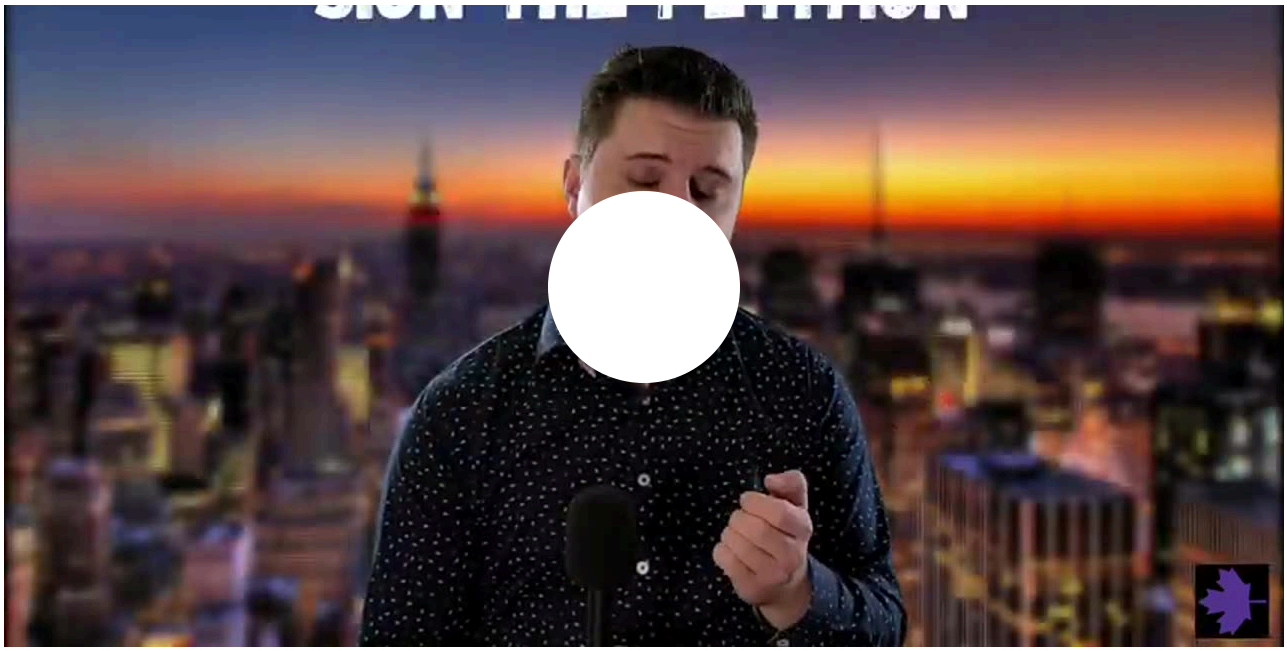
Canada has reached a new low. A self-identified “independent journalist” named Mark Slapinski has called for someone to be imprisoned for having different views. But don’t worry, it’s only in the name of safety.

1. Not A Personal Defense Of Saccoccia

To add in a disclaimer: this article is not about personally defending Chris Saccoccia (a.k.a. Chris Sky). He is obnoxious, looks goofy, and overall, is difficult to take seriously. And he may very well be attempting to co-opt real resistance. Nonetheless, he does have his free speech rights. These rights are especially important in light of blatant lies, gaslighting, and lawfare that we experience.

2. Mark Slapinski Started Actual Petition

Lock Chris Sky Up (From 2020) Mark Slapinski Hates Free Speech



Chris Sky has become infamous for leading the anti-mask movement in Toronto, as well as spreading inaccurate and anti-scientific information about COVID19 on Social Media.

Chris Sky was recently seen breaking into Adamson BBQ as an act of “united non-compliance” with a group of followers. This escalation in tactics from Mr. Sky is a danger to public health, and needs to be dealt with accordingly.

Chris Sky has been charged by police before, but it appears those charges have not deterred him from spreading disinformation and putting people’s lives in danger.

If Sky continues this behaviour, COVID rates will likely continue to rise, and extend the length of the lockdown. His anti-vaccine rhetoric will likely delay a lifting of COVID restrictions, due to him contributing to “vaccine hesitancy”.

The best way to send a message to anti-maskers is to put their leader in jail.

.

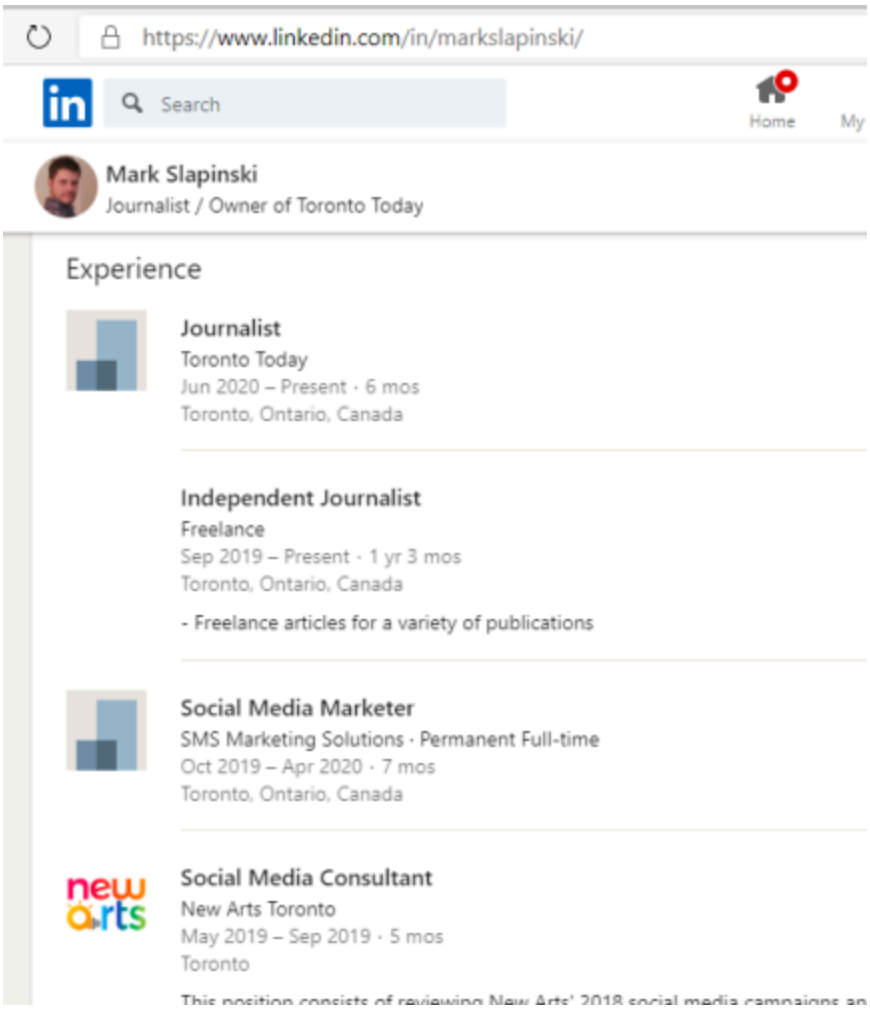
Sign the petition. Let’s put Chris Sky behind bars!

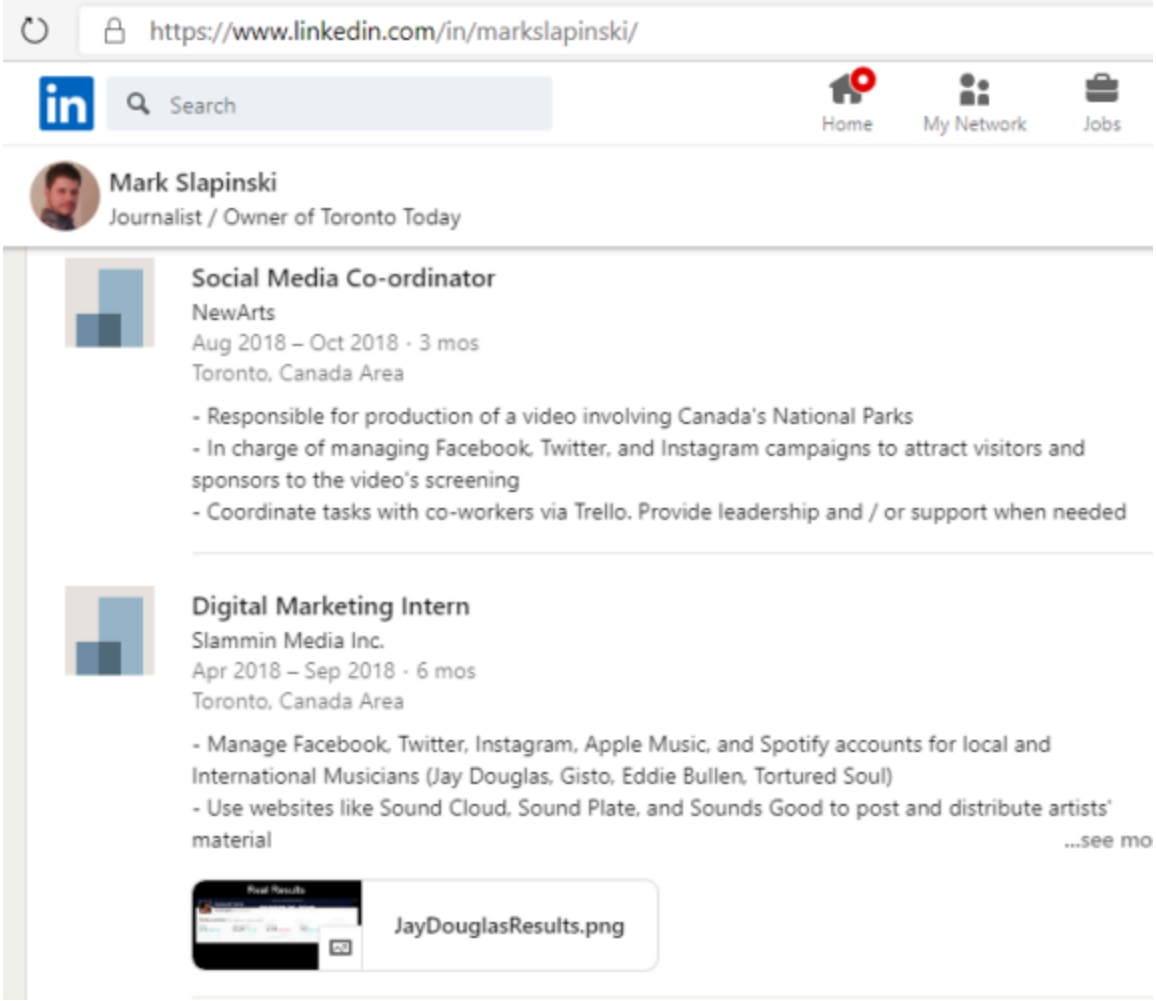
.

Started by Toronto Today

Now, who is Mark Slapinski?

Here is some information he provides on his LinkedIn page.





https://www.linkedin.com/in/markslapinski/
Search
Home
My Network
Jobs
Mark Slapinski
Journalist / Owner of Toronto Today
Social Media Co-ordinator
NewArts
Aug 2018 – Oct 2018 · 3 mos
Toronto, Canada Area
- Responsible for production of a video involving Canada's National Parks
- In charge of managing Facebook, Twitter, and Instagram campaigns to attract visitors and sponsors to the video's screening
- Coordinate tasks with co-workers via Trello. Provide leadership and / or support when needed
Digital Marketing Intern
Slammin Media Inc.
Apr 2018 – Sep 2018 · 6 mos
Toronto, Canada Area
- Manage Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, Apple Music, and Spotify accounts for local and International Musicians (Jay Douglas, Gisto, Eddie Bullen, Tortured Soul)
- Use websites like Sound Cloud, Sound Plate, and Sounds Good to post and distribute artists' material
...see mo
JayDouglasResults.png

At first, it’s difficult to believe this is real. Mark Slapinski is a journalist, or at least he “identifies” as one. However, he openly calls for someone with a different opinion to be locked up. Aside from the obvious cognitive dissonance, Slapinski seems oblivious to the idea that it is exactly that mentality that could one day see HIM shut down and jailed.

It’s unclear whether Slapinski is a plant being used by the government to promote censorship, or if he is just a useful idiot. Either way, this needs to be called out.

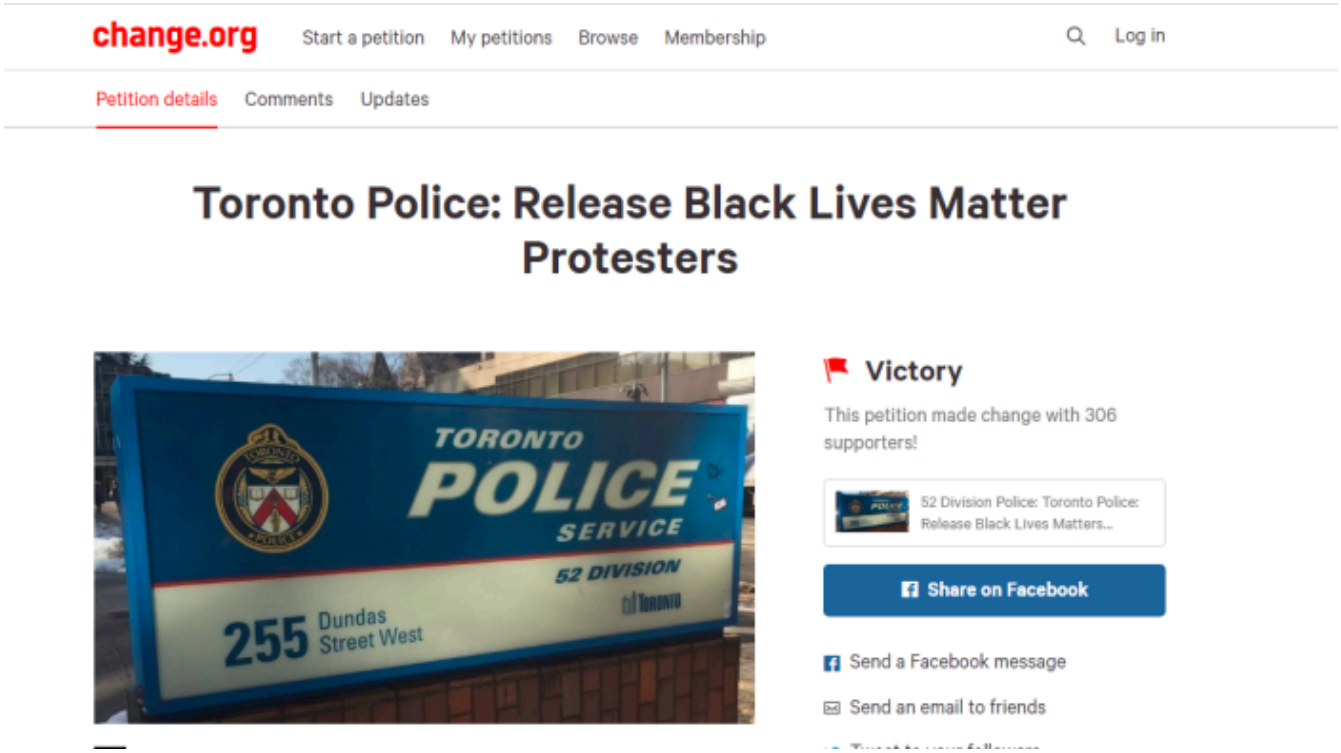
In the petition, Slapinski drops his real goal. He wants to silence the “anti-maskers” by putting Chris Saccoccia/Sky in jail. This is a deliberate attempt to shut down views he disagrees with. Never mind that Sky doesn’t speak for the people as a whole — most find him distasteful.

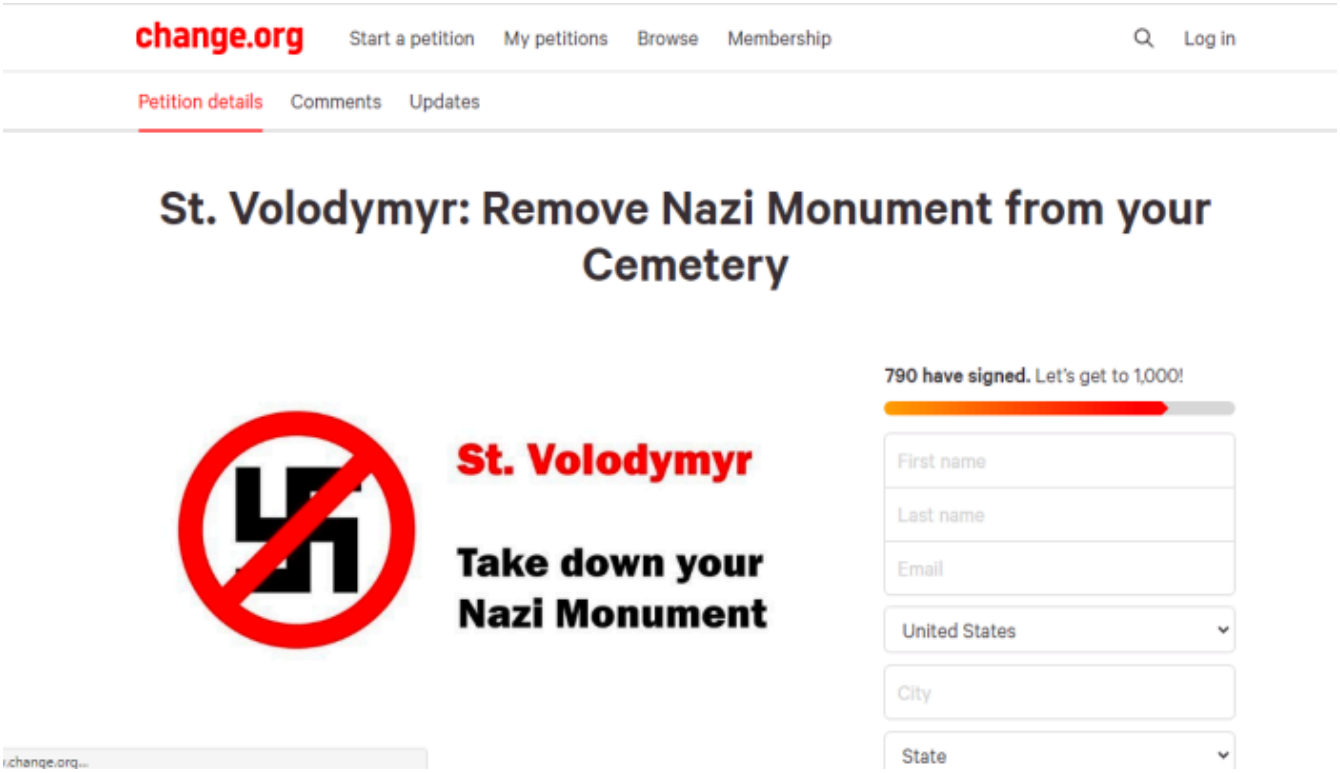
Interesting that Slapinsky uses the phrase “vaccine hesitancy”. Outside of Government and NGO circles, it’s rarely heard. It refers to people’s reluctance (for whatever reason), to be vaccinated. And Slapinski makes it clear he wants people to get it.

Never mind that this “pandemic” is grossly overblown, and is being used to implement a larger social agenda. Slapinski is either completely ignorant of all of this (and has done no research), or is willfully complicit in deceiving the public.

Slapinski would do a far greater public service if he spent his time researching and fact checking the claims and predictions the Government makes. The official story falls apart under any real scrutiny.

3. Soros Funded Change.Org Petitions



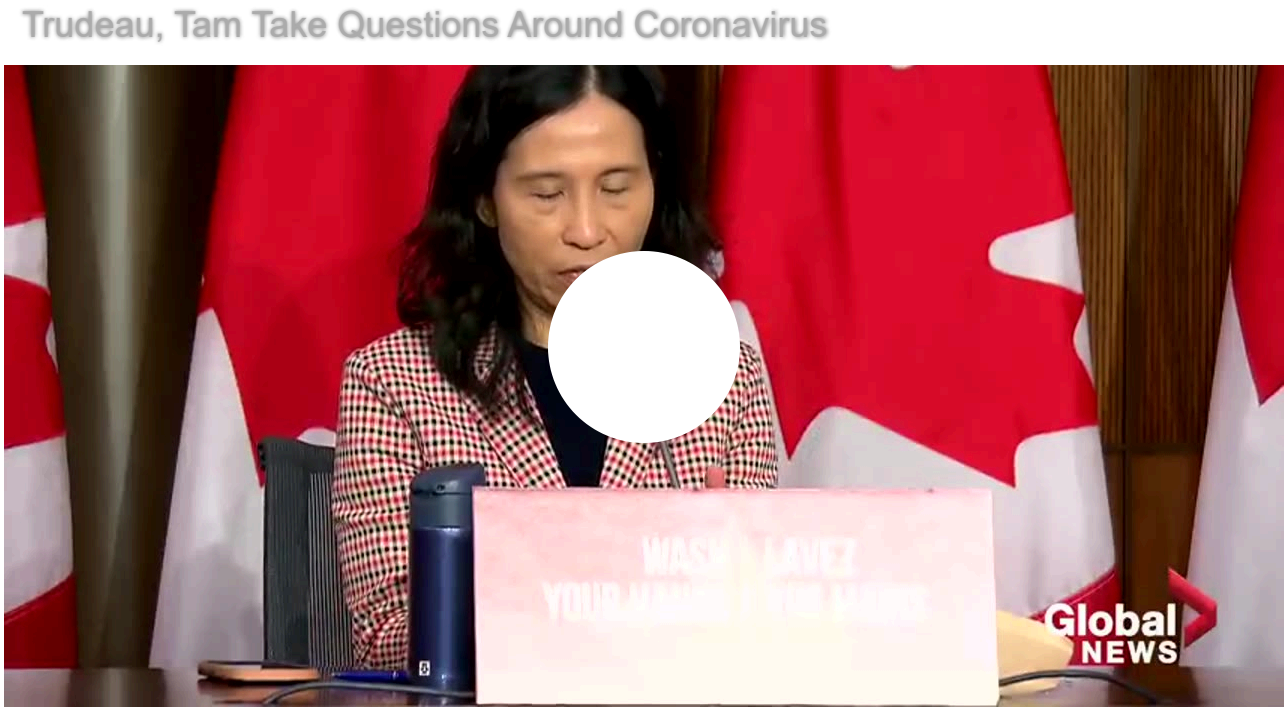


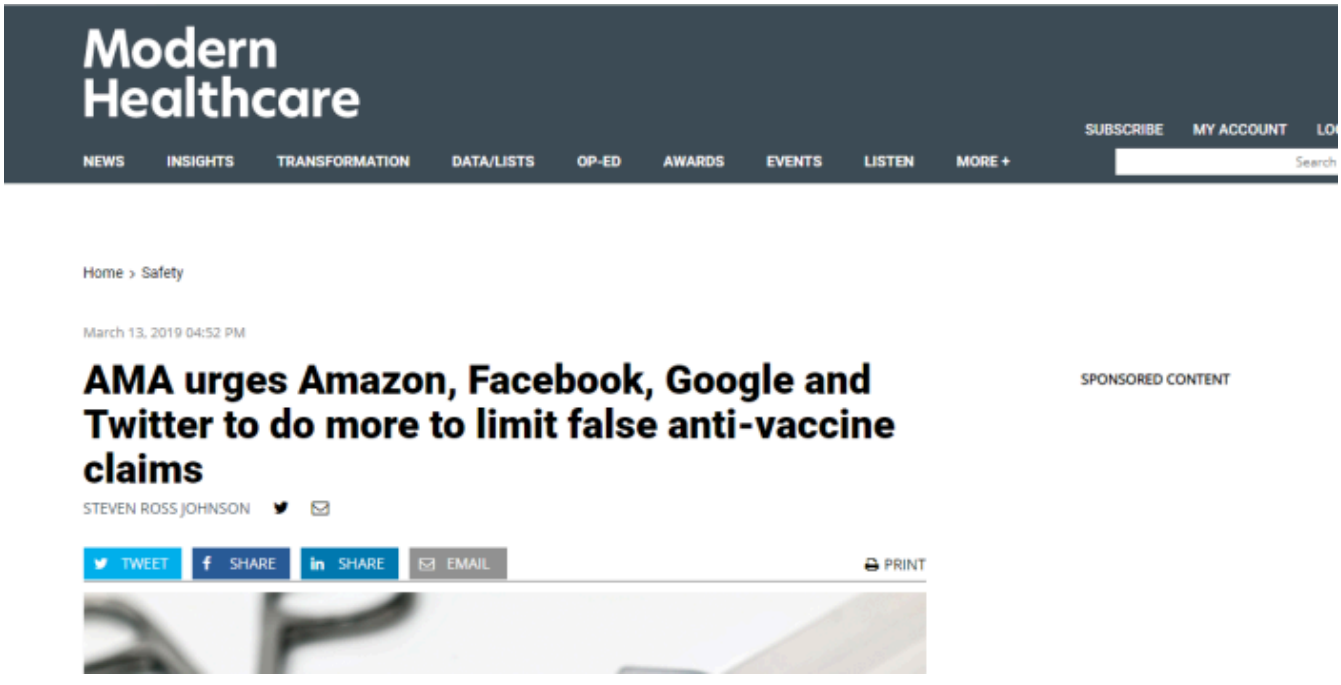
change.org
Start a petition
My petitions
Browse
Membership
Log in
Petition details
Comments
Updates
Cut off funding for the CBC once and for all
#DefundCBC
34 have signed. Let's get to 100!
First name
Last name
Email
Buffalo, 14202
United States
Please share my name and email address with Toronto Today, so that I can receive updates on this campaign and others.
Display my name and comment on this petition
Toronto Today started this petition to Prime Minister of Canada/Premier ministre du Canada Justin Trudeau

It seems Slapinski has filed several petitions with change.org. And while he calls for Black Lives Matter people to be freed, he wants to lock up people who aren’t violent. Pick a lane. Also, it’s oddly amusing the never ending attempts to gaslight whites by using the “Nazi” logo.

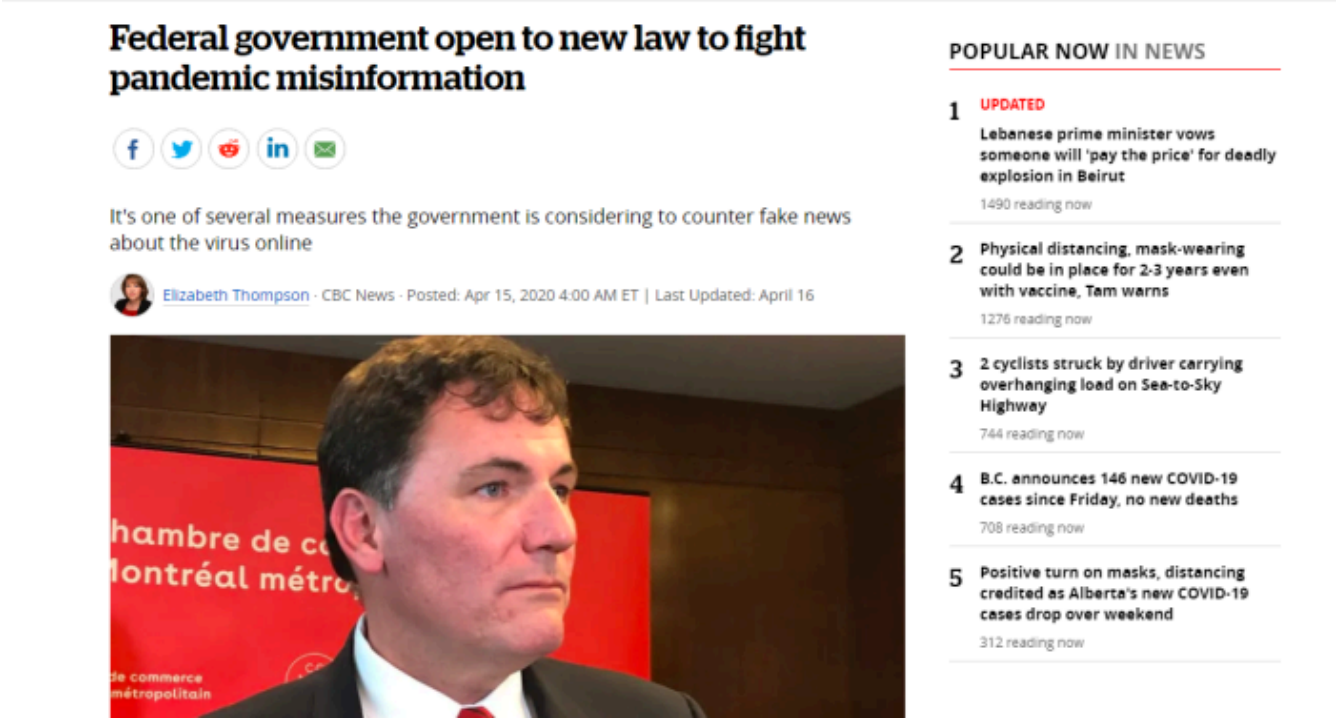
At least these are theoretically possible, unlike the current petition to have someone jailed. Someone needs to tell him that’s not how the law works. Police respond to complaints filed, not petitions.

4. Censorship, Social Media Collusion Here Now





Modern Healthcare
NEWS INSIGHTS TRANSFORMATION DATA/LISTS OP-ED AWARDS EVENTS LISTEN MORE +
SUBSCRIBE MY ACCOUNT
Home › Safety
March 13, 2019 04:52 PM
AMA urges Amazon, Facebook, Google and Twitter to do more to limit false anti-vaccine claims
STEVEN ROSS JOHNSON
TWEET SHARE SHARE EMAIL PRINT
SPONSORED CONTENT



Federal government open to new law to fight pandemic misinformation

It's one of several measures the government is considering to counter fake news about the virus online

Elizabeth Thompson · CBC News · Posted: Apr 15, 2020 4:00 AM ET | Last Updated: April 16

POPULAR NOW IN NEWS

1 UPDATED
Lebanese prime minister vows someone will 'pay the price' for deadly explosion in Beirut
1490 reading now

2 Physical distancing, mask-wearing could be in place for 2-3 years even with vaccine, Tam warns
1276 reading now

3 2 cyclists struck by driver carrying overhanging load on Sea-to-Sky Highway
744 reading now

4 B.C. announces 146 new COVID-19 cases since Friday, no new deaths
708 reading now

5 Positive turn on masks, distancing credited as Alberta's new COVID-19 cases drop over weekend
312 reading now

See 2:30 in the Tam/Trudeau video. Tam openly admits that there is social media collusion to: (a) take down media that contradicts the narrative; (b) direct people to “trusted” sites; (c) demonetize accounts that don’t play along; and (d) manipulate search algorithms to make them harder to find. The Canadian media doesn’t call this out.

Social media outlets already collude with governments to promote the pro-vaccine narrative, and it’s no accident so many outlets in Canada are subsidized. Governments also have floated the idea of “misinformation” laws to criminally penalize people who contradict the official stories.

At best, Slapinski seems to be aware of none of this, and is blindly parroting back Government talking points. At worst, he is actively trying to censor, shut down (and jail) critics.

Again, none of this is to defend Saccoccia/Sky himself — who does more harm than good to the resistance — but to defend the principle of free speech.

CANADA, FREE SPEECH, MEDIA, SOCIAL MEDIA, VACCINES

4 Replies to “So-Called “Journalist” Mark Slapinski Wants Person He Doesn’t Agree With Jailed”

A Hancock

JANUARY 7, 2021 AT 12:57 AM

He’s at it again, with a new youtube channel. He’s flipped sides, posting videos from right-wing bias instead of left.Still the same sloppy “journalism” . I assume he’s just chasing enough views to make some ad-revenue. No one cared when he was leftist troll, so he’s trying the right.

Notmyrealname

NOVEMBER 8, 2023 AT 12:58 PM

I find it interesting that you seem to have hit the nail on the head (when it comes to Slappy).
Fun Facts:
Seems he was an ‘advocate’ for non-compliance to the masking rules himself (I know from personal experience that this individual was attempting to host a ‘F*CK corona virus party’ – June 1st/2020 – in the beginning. The building in which he lived/lives promptly Shut It Down, before it could happen). – The original post was listed on Twitter under ‘St. Jamestown Coronavirus Connect’ (@stjamestownfire) – It’s likely been removed or taken down by now – I have a screenshot of it.

Another Fun Fact:
Our friend Mark forgot to include some of his other ‘previous’ work experience…
One of which, has him working briefly at a ‘sandwich shop’ (briefly – fired no doubt).
So he a failed sandwich maker as well… interesting…
His LinkedIn profile has had a lot of editing done, to make him appear to be ’employed (self?) for a lot longer than he really has been. Don’t believe everything on his page (most of which, is likely made up or had the truth stretched beyond recognition.

Believe me when I agree with your sentiment.
He is very off to one side when it comes to politics, personal gain and opinions about others…
(Doing it for the money)

A Hancock

JANUARY 7, 2021 AT 3:25 PM

He pulled down the videos in question. I did manage to get a screenshot of a video from yesterday titled “OPINION: shooting protester at the Capitol is an Act of War” . In that video he nonchalantly inferred that he agreed with the disruption of the senate. The day before he was posted an opinion video , where he said with a smirk, that he wouldn’t be surprised if there were casualties given the circumstances. It seems, he hides behind the “opinion” angle so he can forgo the legwork or using credible source material.

Canuck, my own politics don’t align with yours, though I like to read opinions that don’t echo my own bias. I appreciate that you use proper source material to build your arguments. I think the lazy “journalism” that favours sensational rumour milling over integrity, just keeps the people busy having meme battles , instead of holding government accountable.

Kata List Productions

NOVEMBER 8, 2021 AT 2:42 AM

From the ‘tribe’… hey did you ever check out that interview Jim Goad with Patrick Little back in May 2018 when Little ran for office in California… its on bitchute from his Group Hug podcast .. its a good one to mirror if you feel so inclined.. its interesting to note that Goad who used to write for Takimag, where Gavin McInnis also wrote for but left, has now joined with Greg Johnson at about the same pay he says [to Red Ice interviewer Henrik Palmgren in 2020] .. Greg is notoriously pro-vaxx… weird world… I would think Patrick Little would be all over the vaxx – you never hear from him much now he is living in Idaho he seems to have dropped out..https://www.bitchute.com/video/ZnALDI7eKaf6/